

DANCING PAVILION NOW BEING ERECTED NORMANDIN'S LAKE

(Star Correspondent.)
Normandin's Lake.—Mr. G. C. Siddall has moved a building from town and had it rebuilt into a cozy summer home with a dandy verandah. He has moved his family to the lake for the summer.

Mr. M. L. Forster has a comfortable building as well as a large tent for his family. Martin says "It's the only life; a dip in the morning puts a fellow in good humor for the day."

Mr. L. Nourse, of the Bank of Montreal, has his tent up and bachelor quarters established where the cool breezes blow.

The big new dining room is completed and open for the public. Mr. Relations, who operates a chain of restaurants in Massachusetts and who is up here for his health, has kindly consented to see that all are supplied with eatables at all hours. Dinner parties can be arranged in advance by phoning R810.

The large dancing pavilion, one of the largest in Alberta, is well under way, and the grand opening will be announced shortly. Good music will be provided. The best of flooring is being used and an ideal dance floor is assured. With music, water and cool breezes this should prove an attraction which will draw large crowds to this popular resort. There is lots of room for all.

The Greenhills S.S. held their annual picnic at the lake on Tuesday, and a large number were entertained in splendid style till late in the evening. They are coming again for sure!

PARISHIONERS OF ST. THOMAS' CH. WELCOME BISHOP

On Tuesday evening a truly happy time was had by a large number when the official welcome to this parish of his diocese of the new Bishop of Saskatchewan, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd, took place in Washburn's hall.

The Rev. H. Wilson, vicar of St. Thomas', efficiently acted as chairman and in addition to his eloquent address many others added words of welcome and to all of these the bishop responded in his well-known happy strain.

Before the close abundant refreshments were served by the ladies of the church, which were much enjoyed.

The new Anglican Bishop of Saskatchewan, Dr. George Exton Lloyd, is no stranger to his diocese. Historically this is his third "march to the west". The first was in 1885, when a theological student at Wycliffe College, Toronto, he tramped against Louis Reil with the other boys of the Queens Own Rifles under Col. Otter from Swift Current to the relief of Battleford. He was severely wounded at the battle of Cut Knife Creek rescuing three troopers from the Indians. The military idea of a forward-marching organization gripped him hard, and after his ordination he became known among his friends as the "soldier parson."

He spent some time in parish work and religious journalism, and in 1900 he went to England as an organizer for the Colonial and Continental Church Society. In 1903 he was picked by the society for the special job of chaplain of the Britannia colony—a body of two thousand English people, who were coming out in one party to found a colony in north-western Saskatchewan.

For three or four strenuous years he was chaplain, doctor, lawyer, political agent and farm godmother generally to the Britannia colony, and the colony honored him in many ways, not the least by naming their capital city after him—Lloydminster.

In addition to the Wainwright meeting, the bishop addressed large gatherings at Sligo and Edmonton on Sunday, and at Egan on Monday at each place his welcome address was the heartiest nature.

An official civic welcome was also extended to the bishop at a

OUR DISTRICT IS STILL GOING AHEAD

Messrs. Walter Grey, A. H. Wilkie, A. C. Wheaton and A. E. Snell, all prosperous farmers of the district are hauling material for building and have carpenters busy erecting large modern farm houses. These will add much to the appearance of the community at the several points, and enhance the value of the lands adjoining. In addition to this the Canadian National Railway is having a large amount of grading and ballasting completed, and it would appear that they mean to continue their policy of sending most of the through freight over this line. We learn that it is the shortest coast to coast haul and will have the mail when the present contract expires all of which will help in the further development of our district.

Tax Delinquents Have Ample Notice To Redeem Land

The new tax recovery act passed at the last session is now in operation. Land owners in arrears of taxes after July 1st, will still have until August 14th, to pay up, but if arrears remain unpaid after that date, the municipality in which the land lies files a caveat against the land, and within one year from the date of filing, if the taxes are still unpaid, the municipality may take title to the land. During the year, owners may pay arrears and the caveat may be withdrawn. After title is taken by the municipality, the owner may still redeem the land up to the time it is offered for sale by public auction. Provision is also made for giving the tax delinquents ample notice with warning, during the month of March, that their lands are in arrears and liable to taxation, and if then not redeemed within the redemption period they pass finally into the possession of the municipalities, free from all encumbrances except claims for seed grain or relief liens.

A pleasant little gathering on Tuesday afternoon in the Council chamber when Mayor Lally read a brief address to which his lordship suitably responded.

ON OUR OWN NATIONAL RAILWAY

Lake Kathlyn and Hudson's Bay Mountain

The elevation of this peak is 9000 feet. It is situated near Smithers, B.C., on the Central British Columbia division of the Canadian National Railways. A mountain and glacier may be seen from the train. Lake Kathlyn is close up view of this beautiful remarkable for its wonderful shadows.

REFORM SCHOOL TO BE ESTABLISHED

An industrial school and reformatory for boys, is to be established shortly by the Alberta government. It will be located at Gleichen, where the new agricultural school building will be taken over temporarily for the purpose of use as a farm school having been found unsuitable for the purpose at the present.

Plans for the establishment of a boys' reformatory have been under consideration by the government for some time past and have now reached the point where definite action is expected to be taken as the executive can pass on it. The matter likely will be finally dealt with in the course of the next few weeks, arrangements having already been practically concluded and steps will then at once be taken to get the new institution under way.

RED CROSS SOCIETY STAGE LANTERN LECTURE

Considering the short notice given for the meeting, quite a nice crowd gathered at Grace church on Saturday evening last when Major Scott, of Calgary, who is touring in the interests of hospital work in general, gave an interesting lantern lecture on the work of the Red Cross. The address of the Major and the many views shown proved both amusing and instructive and should go far towards awakening the interest for a municipal hospital for Wainwright.

GRAIN
This week has not been particularly blessed with rainfall in Alberta, and that is what we want most in most of the districts. In the south the crops are good, but some of the central and part of the northern districts are to some along the eastern line. Weather during the next few weeks will mean a great deal in the making or marring of the crop, and some of it seems very doubtful. Wheat prices have been strengthening, partly due to reports of rust in some of the states.

HAY
New alfalfa coming on market soon, and will cut prices on old crop; upland, $13@18; country prices, according to location. Alberta hay will have to meet U.S. competition on markets in southern B.C.; they will sell alfalfa and timothy cheap and have the advantage of freight haul.

HIDES
Another cent advance on butcher hides at 6c; flint dried, 9c; calf, 6c @7c; kip, 5c @5.75c.

ALBERTA COAL TO BE STANDARDIZED

A decision to adopt some system of standardization of Alberta coal, in order to facilitate marketing, was reached at a conference of coal operators of the province with Premier Greenfield to discuss standardization and marketing. The Premier told the operators he was prepared to do anything he could to improve the marketing conditions of Alberta coal, but there were several problems to be solved, and standardization was one of them. A committee of 12 will be appointed to deal with the question of standardization, which will include three men each from the Edmonton, Drumheller and Lethbridge fields, and three from the other fields of the province. It is expected that the committee will be ready to report in about two weeks' time. Other problems of marketing will be discussed. For some time the government has had a campaign in progress in Manitoba to increase the marketing of Alberta coal there, and has met with some success. Geo. Pratt, government fuel engineer in charge of the demonstration at Winnipeg, gave the conference Tuesday one of his illustrated lectures demonstrating the proper methods of firing Alberta coal. Premier Greenfield pointed out that Alberta must develop along two chief lines, namely, agriculture and the coal industry, and attention must be given to the marketing problems.

MRS. HARRY FRENCH PASSES AWAY AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the passing away of Mrs. Harry French, one of the earliest of the settlers in this district, who died on Friday morning last.

The deceased lady who has been ailing for a considerable time from pulmonary trouble, was well known over the whole district and will be missed by a very large circle of friends, the family having resided on their farm some ten miles south of town since the inauguration of our town.

The funeral, which was in accordance with the last wishes of the deceased, was held on Sunday by the Rev. H. Bosworth, the first portion being conducted in the Grace Methodist church and the last sad rites taking place at the Wainwright cemetery.

Condolences and sympathies were expressed by the many neighbors, flowers, and by the large attendance at both services on Sunday, and The Star offers the sympathies of the whole countryside to the sorrowing husband and six children in addition to many other relatives left to mourn their loss.

TREE GROWING COMPETITION

The importance of having shelter-belts of trees on prairie farms has so impressed the Directors of the agricultural society of Biggar, Alberta, that they have inaugurated a tree-planting competition, extending over five years and open to all farmers in the district. Each year there will be cash prizes offered for the best prepared plot and the best plantation set out, and in 1926 there will be cups, medals and cash prizes offered for the best plantations of the five years. The society has secured the endorsement and assistance of Mr. N. M. Ross, Superintendent of the Dominion Forest-Nursery Station at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, in planning the competition and it would appear that this is the beginning of a forward movement in tree planting on a large scale in those parts of the prairie that have not yet taken it up.

Two Provinces Will Likely Join On Wheat Board

An interprovincial conference between Alberta and Saskatchewan, on the wheat board question, may be arranged for an early date. Premiers Greenfield and Dunning are now in correspondence on the matter, the idea being that the two provinces should get together, compare notes, and ascertain whether or not it will be possible for them to act in cooperation, and in time to secure the functioning of a wheat board this year.

Under the terms of the Dominion act it will be necessary for at least two provinces to act together in the adoption of the federal legislation, and since Manitoba is just now immersed in a provincial election contest it is recognized that the onus is upon Alberta and Saskatchewan; if the wheat board scheme is to have operative force, the place and time of meeting for the two-province conference have not yet been fixed, but it is thought likely that such a meeting will be arranged shortly.

C.G.I.T. GIRLS HAVE NOW RETURNED FROM SUMMER VACATION

After a most enjoyable ten-day camp at the lake, the C.G.I.T. girls "broke up" on the tenth, and declare the whole affair to be the very best. Beginning with the morning dip at 8 a.m. every hour of the day till 10.30 at night was full of interest and excitement. Rowing, fishing, swimming, hikes, camp-fire sings, etc., filled the time to entirety, and many honors were won for learning different classes of sport. Miss M. Bagnall was acclaimed the best "camp spirit" while Miss L. Matthews took honors in the "best cooking" and dish-washing for twenty, were cheerfully "carried off" by the camp newspaper, "The Lafatol Excuse," edited by Miss S. Rosholt added not a little to the merriment of the proceedings; practically everybody had to stand for the editorial censure and chaff during the camp period.

The participants have returned looking fit and trim and are all loud in their praises of the camp chaperones, Mrs. H. Bagnall and Miss H. Tordy and are anxious for the next "annual".

VIKING RATEPAYERS ACCEPT GAS OFFER

The municipal council and ratepayers of Viking at a special meeting last week accepted the offer of the Viking Gas Company, Limited, a subsidiary company of the Alberta Gas and Development company, to supply natural gas for the village of Viking at 50c per 1,000 cu. feet, work on the laying of the pipe to commence immediately and to be finished by the end of 1922. The ratepayers were glad of the opportunity offered by the company to get the gas at 50c. A.S. Matheson, of Edmonton, represented the company at the meeting.

LOCAL MACHINIST GAINS SUCCESS IN USEFUL INVENTION

Bill used to sit up nights working and worrying over several bits of steel and iron, and we all wondered what the outcome would be. Would Bill take up a residence at Ponoka or—

But why hesitate with the aftermath? "Bill" or to give him his full cognomen—Mr. William S. Goulet—has succeeded. Eureka! The bits of iron and steel are assembled correctly, and now the success of the invention is assured after some two years of study and experiment on the part of our local machinist.

Regarding this The Edmonton Journal says:—

"A very interesting demonstration was made at the University of Alberta when a mowing machine, manufactured by the Canadian Farm Implement company, limited, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, was used to cut a straggling crop of sweet clover on the university farm."

This machine is operated with two knives, working one above the other, similar to a pair of clippers, thus eliminating the ledger plate as used in the old type of machine.

"It was a treat to watch the machine in operation. There was a total absence of vibration with practically no side draft. The machine pulls about forty per cent lighter than the old type of machine and the knives are self sharpening. This demonstration was made with the permission of Professor Cutler, director of field husbandry."

"The machine has been named the 'Wonder Mower'."

The company is making an exhibit at the Edmonton fair, and the fact of the undertaking being an Alberta one will no doubt create much interest.

WILL TROUBLES BE SOLVED BY TRUER RELIGION?

Not so very long ago, the orthodox doctrine of political economy was that labor is a commodity like fruit. The workingman has labor to sell, the capitalist wishes to buy some labor, and goes into the market, like the housewife, to buy the best he can get at the lowest price for which he can get it. As the housewife is spending the family money, so the capitalist is spending the stockholder's money; and both are bound to make the best bargain they can.

There are many and serious objections to this economic theory. The fundamental and fatal objection is that labor is not a commodity. Commodity is a thing and labor is not a thing; it is a service. Commodity is a product of man's labor, but labor is the man himself for a certain number of days in the week or hours in the day.

Roger W. Babson, the financial expert, has hit this in a recent financial letter. "I am convinced," he writes, "that the labor situation will, in the end, throw the nation ultimately into chaos. The solving of the labor situation is wholly a question of religion. The wage-worker will never be satisfied with higher wages and shorter hours, any more than you and I are satisfied with more profits and a bigger house. Things never did satisfy any one and never will. Satisfaction and contentment are matters of religion, Communities and industries, where right motives are paramount, have no serious labor problems. When both employer and wage-earner honestly believe that we are here in this world to serve others, the labor problem will be solved—but not till then. We employers should learn to give up, and labor should wake up. However, neither of us will do it except as we are actuated by religious motives. Both groups are largely actuated by selfish motives at the present time."

I wish to thank Fire Chief Mills and his men for the good work they did in saving my house at the recent fire on 6th Avenue A. T. Cook.

Select Laxative Medicine With Great Care

In debility and weakness, medicine should be mild and not reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too harsh, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Man-drake and Buttermilk, so as to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, so as to flush out the system of toxins and regulate the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, thus do they restore clearness to the skin, thus do they renew health and strength. To keep your system in healthy good working order, regulate it with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the all doctors of The Catarrh-cure Co., Montreal.

While he had been speaking Daphne looked from the crude picture on the wall to his face. She knew he was speaking the truth, that he was saying bare his heart. Any doubts she might have had were swept away. There were probably many in the world who could have married and lived happily with, though as yet she had not met one. She knew that the man who meets the right man is lucky; she knew now with a sure and certain instinct that she had found more; she had met the one man in the world who could love, to whom she could give herself body and soul, and, fearfully, caring nothing for social position, public opinion.

And yet while he waited for her answer, she hesitated. Her heart cried out aloud; but custom and centuries of timid ancestresses made her dumb.

Edward rose. "You are not sure," he said slowly. "I wouldn't tell you all this now, dear, only a few days after my meeting with your father this morning, that it's now or never. Though I love you I shall never give you up. I shall never want any woman but you."

She hid her face and waited. The moments were passing; she could hear the horses stamping and chaffing impatiently outside. Arthur might return any minute now. She tried to speak; she tried to get up and throw herself in his arms. She felt as if spell was over her, a spell cast by birth and breeding and conventions made in the dark ages.

But as she waited, terrified lest the moment should pass and she would lose what she knew was better than anything possessing in life, she heard Edward move. She felt his hands on her arms, she felt his arms around her waist, she felt his lips had singled out for her husband.

"I am sure of myself," she said. She was surprised to hear how calmly she spoke. "I am yours, Edward, I'll do whatever you wish."

He covered her face with kisses; he kissed her hands, her feet. "If there was any other way I wouldn't suggest this way."

Then she rose and looked at him with happy, fearless eyes. "It's the best way, the glorious way, the way of all true lovers."

Arthur entered the room. "How much longer do you expect me to wait for you, Daphne? I've just seen Edward driving down the street. He did not see me. I thought for a moment he was coming over to challenge Mr. Lion."

"I'm ready," Daphne cried. She gripped Edward's arm and ran to the door.

"I'll send you that introduction to the fellow at Montreal," he said to Arthur. "I'm going to London to-morrow on business; I'll write you from there."

"Right-o," Arthur said.

W. N. U. 1457

Edward, standing at the window, watched them ride away. He felt like the prince in a fairy story. He sat down and began to write a letter to his father. Before he had finished it the Honourable Paul Andover was announced.

CHAPTER X.

Before calling on Lion Mr. Andover paid a visit to the office of the duke in Inverness. There was a young man there who had been at Magdalen about the same time as Edward, and the private secretary wanted to verify the small amount of information he had been able to collect concerning Edward.

The Magdalen man was vague after the manner of his class. He did not remember much about Lion; he had probably met him once or twice, and he had the reputation of being a decent fellow—a gentleman, a sportsman, keen on rugger and boxing, and at the same time fond to work.

He had never heard anything against him, except that his father had something to do with coal.

Andover remarked dryly that the duke owned several collieries. "He came to the conclusion that he would not have a difficult time of it," he said. "It was always easy to deal with a gentleman."

Andover was quite accustomed to playing the part of peacemaker for the duke—not that the duke ever made peace, but he explained to the duke demanded that oil should be poured on the waters he so often violently disturbed. Extremely subtle in his methods himself, Andover seldom looked for subtlety in others.

He discovered that met at any rate were very obvious in their desires. Edward Lion was merely an ambitious young man; doubtless he had been attracted by Lady Daphne, but the attraction was his title, her position, her wealth. Love was a force Andover had never encountered; therefore he was incapable of recognizing its existence. Passion doubtless existed among the lower classes, but sentiment sometimes entered into the feelings of the upper classes.

Superficially, he found Lion quite the type of man he expected to meet. He was not an communicative as Andover would have liked, but he seemed fairly obvious in his purpose. It was simply mean ruining Lady Daphne's life, and the end of his career. All this suggested more than said in half language.

Lion listened unmoved, hardly interested, but inwardly exceedingly amused. He had inwardly expected to find a man who would be surprised and a little shocked to find he had made no progress. He used every art he possessed; he had been largely reminded Lion there was compensation for a broken heart and the duke, like many hot tempered men, was exceedingly generous.

Edward remarked that he had already given him proof of his generosity, and Andover nodded, though he did not quite understand the reference. He suddenly ended the interview by asking and asking Andover to excuse him, as he had to catch a train, catching the midnight mail to London.

"You are going away? I have convinced you?" Edward asked innocently.

Andover came to the conclusion that he had been wasting his time on a very dull and unintelligent person. "I've convinced you," he said. "I've shown you your head to face, than to break it against a stone wall."

"Tell His Grace," Edward replied, "that there's no wall he can raise but that I can climb it."

"You know, Mr. Lion, that is a foolish thing to say," Edward said. "The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense."

"The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense," Edward said. "The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense."

Edward held open the door. "Good afternoon, Mr. Andover. I've just seen Edward driving down the street. He did not see me. I thought for a moment he was coming over to challenge Mr. Lion."

"I'm ready," Daphne cried. She gripped Edward's arm and ran to the door.

"I'll send you that introduction to the fellow at Montreal," he said to Arthur. "I'm going to London to-morrow on business; I'll write you from there."

WITH THE WISDOM OF THE GIRL

Stella Explains a Queer Sea Anomaly to Her Brownies.

STELLA'S Brownies had been so completely fascinated by the fierce, angry fight between the two tiny Hermit Crabs (for they had both been so terribly in earnest) that they really were sorry when the funny little battle was over—when one "Hermit" had wandered away and the other had decided to rest in its comfortable shell house, from which it had been, for a short time, pulled out by its "Hermit" enemy.

After the "Hermit" had retreated as far down as possible into its home and the fight really was a thing of the past, the four Brownies all drew a deep, "well-tha's-over" breath, and then they looked around, hoping for more strange sights to see.

Safely perched on the rocks, they were gazing down into the quiet water. In fact, the water was so very still that they could look straight through to the sandy bottom, and oh, how many, many queer things they saw.

Their attention was promptly claimed by the oddest kind of gray, shell "money comb" that seemed to be attached and growing from one of the rocks under the water.

"What in the world can those be?" Kinkajou thoughtfully murmured. "I never saw anything like them! Let's wish that Stella were here so that she could tell us."

"Yes, let's!" exclaimed the other three Brownies, and they all closed their eyes very tight and "wished" ever so hard for their darling Stella. In less than a minute she was with them—she had come all the way from the End-of-the-Earth! The Brownies weren't even surprised when they opened their eyes and saw her, for they knew only too well that she would feel their wish and join them as magic made possible.

"Well, what do you want?" she asked with a smile as she sat down on a rock beside Snookums. "I know that you were wishing for me, so here I am."

"We want you to tell us what those curious things are, Stella, dear," answered Pizzle as he pointed to the funny little wave-branched coming out from one of the rocks.

"Oh!" exclaimed the Fairies as her eyes followed the Brownies pointing finger. "Those are Barnacles, and those feathery things are sea anemones. They are now waving their feet—there are ways to tell when the water is motionless and they are undisturbed. That is how they get their food. The feathery part of these feet (for branches, as you called them a moment ago), stir the surrounding water and in this way sends all kinds of small creatures into their mouths—small creatures that are too tiny to be seen. When Barnacles are fishing, they draw in these puny little fish and other small creatures, as you can see, for each Barnacle is attached to the rock by a long, thin, elastic thread. But they don't want to. They are perfectly happy."

"Barnacles?" asked Kinkajou, "and their babies swim away around until they become a certain age, and then they take a firm hold onto the rock, the bottom of a boat or some piece of old wood and begin growing the shells of their own. And there they stay in the same place until they die, when their shells remain until they, too, rot away, and more Barnacles grow in their place."

who were more real to him than the people of his own time. He had found half buried as usual in books, manuscripts, dust and tobacco. He took off his horn spectacles and looked at the long white hair of an idealist.

"Where have you sprung from—the belt of the world?" he asked. "Edward shook his head. 'No, that's all over. I'm supposed to be the head of my Parliamentary career.'"

"Prometheus unbound, or out of the trap?" he asked. "Edward smiled. 'No, I'm not free, but I'm suffering in consequence.'"

"Edward did not waste time in pretending he had called for the pleasure of seeing his friend. Their friendship had always been a very real thing, yet no two men could have been more dissimilar physically and mentally. It was as if nature, in them, was trying to link the centuries together."

"I'm love," Edward said. "Redding clasped his long thin hands together and closed his eyes. 'The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense.'"

"The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense," Edward said. "The duke is a fool, but he is a fool who has no sense."

Edward held open the door. "Good afternoon, Mr. Andover. I've just seen Edward driving down the street. He did not see me. I thought for a moment he was coming over to challenge Mr. Lion."

"I'm ready," Daphne cried. She gripped Edward's arm and ran to the door.

"I'll send you that introduction to the fellow at Montreal," he said to Arthur. "I'm going to London to-morrow on business; I'll write you from there."

"Right-o," Arthur said.

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no night so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance. When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not. Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Purgative and Soothing Syrup was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

Airplane Flew by Itself

Remarkable Test With New Handley-Page Machine

The STABILITY of the new Handley-Page W 8 B aeroplanes was demonstrated during a recent flight from Paris, when the pilot was able to fly with his hands off the controlling wheel from Beauvais near Paris to Croydon, a distance of roughly 200 miles. The directional steering was done by means of the rudder, the machine otherwise flying on a level keel, uncontrolled for nearly two hours.

Time has Tested It.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has been on the market upwards of fifty years, and in that time it has proved a blessing to thousands. It is in high favor throughout Canada and its excellence has carried its fame beyond the seas. Double the price it would be a cheap inducement.

Bill.—What did she say?

Wife.—Collect, yourself!

Travel Net Took Fire

Phosphorus Burnt Into Flames When Exposed to Air

A story of how part of a catch in a travel net burst into flames when brought to the surface, is told by Grimby fishermen.

They were bringing in the net when, to their astonishment, they saw flame coming from it. Because of the risk of fire to the vessel, they had to abandon their haul.

It is believed that the flames came from a quantity of phosphorus which had somehow been incorporated in the net. It is a substance which is preserved intact in water, but which takes fire readily when exposed to air. Phosphorus was largely used in the war in making smoke-bombs used to form smoke screens for concealing vessels during sea fighting.

Flax in the West

Excellent Prospects of a Heavy Yield This Year

Flax is a magic word in agrarian circles of Western Canada just now. The acreage is thought to be nearly three times that of other years, with excellent prospects of a heavy yield.

Government figures this spring showed a world shortage of available flax seed to be 27,000,000 bushels, and with prices around $2.25 flax producers expect a handsome revenue. Last year Europe consumed 42,000,000 bushels and Canada and the United States requirements this year are estimated at 30,000,000 bushels.

Our slogan for the coming year should be, "Buy at Home." Add to your own and your neighbor's prosperity by keeping the money circulating in our own district.

Vickers Amphibian Viking First Vessel of Its Class to Reach Canada

The Laurrentide Air Service has received from England a "Vickers Amphibian Viking," the first flying vessel of its class to reach Canada, and representing the latest thing in post-war airplane construction. The machine was purchased two months ago in England, and is to be used by the company as part of an air fleet, of four similar planes for aerial observation and photography in connection with forestry patrol work.

Wise and experienced mothers know when their children are troubled with worms and lose no time in applying Miller's Worm Powders, a most effective vermifuge. It is absolute in clearing the system of worms and restoring those healthy conditions without which there can be no comfort for the child, or hope of robust growth. It is a most trustworthy worm exterminator.

Fly by Night Between

England and France

Commercial Value of Aerial Communication is Greatly Enhanced

Night flying between England and France, which was inaugurated recently by the expected to add immensely to the commercial value of aerial communication. It saves time, and makes possible remarkable train and steamship connections which were before impossible.

The first plane to travel between London and Paris at night left the London air station at 10 o'clock and landed at the Paris aerodrome soon after midnight. It contained Brigadier-General W. B. Branker, director of civil aviation; Colonel L. P. Blandy, controller of air communications; a navigator, pilot, two wireless operators and mechanic.

The air station at Croydon, outside London, was ablaze with search-lights, colored electric globes, and powerful incandescents. A large lamp. The illuminated cabin of the machine, and the red, white and green navigating lights made it an object of rare beauty as it rose in the darkness and headed for the coast.

Edward laughed. "I was afraid you would think me mad."

Modern Study of Geography

Countries Are Real Places to Children of Today.

It is scarcely needful to expound the power of the news of the day in taking the reader to strange places and strange scenes. In later years it has been made quite plain to us, and indeed an alert mind is required to keep up with the rapid evolution of political geography. Many things have occurred to prove that geography is a necessary part of the equipment of citizenship. That the deplorable habit of the River Tigis concerned our affairs we could have imagined; but who had any notion of the significance of the Pripiet marshes or the island of Wrangel to the modern world? The children of today are very fortunate. Geography study is concerned with realities. Children while still in their kindergarten are making relief maps of their native district. The foreign countries of which they hear are not merely "name places," but real places with real people sending them real things and talking real things in return. Geography is a science nowadays, and teachers of today have brought this science out of the clouds of abstraction to living facts.—Montreal Gazette.

A Bicycle Airplane

Combination Machine Is Novel Invention of Indiana Man

A machine that is a combination of bicycle and airplane is the novel invention of Bela Tomkay, of Indy. It has a frame resembling the frame of an ordinary bicycle much elongated and mounted upon bicycle wheels. From the front and rear ends of the frame, posts are erected vertically (the front post being Y shape) and these support a small plane. At the rear of the machine are two propellers, which are caused to revolve by the rider's operation of the pedals. There is also a rudder controlled by a steering wheel.

He starts off as he might on an ordinary bicycle, sitting on the seat and working the pedals which drive the propellers. The latter give motion to the machine and when sufficient speed has been attained, the rider pulls a lever, which gives the plane an upward lifting angle, thus causing the air-bike to rise into the air.

Fears of Chairman of Steamship Company Were Realized

The sinking of the Peninsula and Oriental steamship Egypt in the fog in the channel with its loss of 99 lives and £1,000,000 in gold is the first great disaster the P. and O. Company has sustained for many years.

At the annual meeting of the company and its associates in London last December the chairman, Lord Inchcape, was able to speak with justifiable satisfaction of the good fortune which had attended their great enterprise during the previous year. Of the 444 steamers, owned by the company and its associates in commission, which had carried over 12,000,000 tons of cargo and more than 2,000,000 passengers, not a ship had been lost and not one life destroyed by marine casualty. "I am almost afraid," he said, "to mention this record, in case it should be broken during the year now current."

The present extension of the prohibition keeps it in force until July 1, 1923, unless an earlier termination is made by proclamation.

THERE IS DANGER IN WATERY BLOOD

If Not Corrected Serious Results May Follow

In no trouble to delay or neglect more dangerous than anemia, a poverty of the blood. It is very common in young girls and in persons who are overworked or confined within doors. It makes its approach in so stealthy a manner that it is often very developed before its presence is recognized.

But taken in time there is a tonic medicine which increases the number of red blood corpuscles thus enabling the blood to carry the life-giving oxygen to all the tissues of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have had much success in the treatment of this stubborn trouble because of this wonderful property.

The correction of anemic conditions by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is as certain as anything can be. "Take them," says the life-giving Dr. Mary D. Kelly, Charlotte, N.C., who says: "My blood was thin and watery and my system very much weakened. I could not do any work or walk upstairs without resting. I suffered from heart trouble, my appetite was poor and I was troubled with indigestion. I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in a short time the results showed. I was just the medicine I needed. I was able to do my work and feel stronger and better than I have done for several years. From my personal experience I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. The Better Immigrant

Men, Not Clothes, Is the Determining Factor

The Manitoba member who says that the man with the sheepskin coat is a better immigrant than the man with kid gloves and a white collar, is too superficial. No question of coat or gloves need arise in the immigration regulations. Mr. Baubles may have worn a white collar when he was making his speech. He was none the worse for that. When the people of Canada determine whether a proposed settler is desirable they need to study the man rather than the clothes. Sheepskin coats are good for their purpose, but if the man who wears one proposes to remain a foreigner in Canada, and will refuse to bring up his children as Canadians, he should be invited to remain in the country to which he belongs. A certain number of Eastern Europeans can be assimilated in Canada, but we should be done with the settlement of such people in close communities where they are isolated from Canadian and British influences, and remain an alien population.—The Vancouver Province.

Addressing the parliamentary committee of the League of Nations, Sir Charles Gordon, one of the Canadian delegates, stated that in volume of imports and exports Canada stood fourth among the thirty-four nations represented. Short Course for Publishers

Great Interest Being Taken in Conference of Western Weekly Newspapers

The first Short Course and Conference for Newspaper Publishers, which was held at Manitoba Agricultural College in August last year, provided four days of interest, value and enjoyment to the newspaper men who attended it and was the successful beginning of a community service of importance to the West. It is now an assured certainty that this year's Short Course and Conference, which likewise will be of four days' duration, beginning Tuesday, August 8, will be still more interesting and enjoyable and of greater value to those attending it. It will be a greater success, a success on a larger scale.

Governments and all other human institutions exist for the purpose of serving the community, and their justification for existence can be measured only by the value of their service to the community. The Department of Agriculture of Manitoba provides community service of many kinds and in varied ways; a large proportion of this service has Manitoba Agricultural College as its centre and basis of operation, and the improvement of agriculture, the betterment of the conditions of life and work of the men and women engaged in the basic industry of this country is its purpose. Every agency, method and system which serves that purpose serves and promotes the progress and prosperity of the country as a whole.

Nothing is more important in this connection than the promotion of a vigorous community spirit in every district. The local newspaper, if it should be the voice of the community spirit. In co-operating with the local newspapers by means of the Short Course and Conference, Manitoba Agricultural College is doing a public service of inestimable value.

The committees in charge are making plans for the Short Course and Conference next August which will provide, as has been noted above, even more varied interest and enjoyment for each day than characterized last year's Short Course and Conference. The newspapermen who bring their wives with them will be doubly delighted, and so will their wives. There will be no lack of entertainment for either.

Manitoba Agricultural College, with its spacious buildings, beautiful surroundings, comfortable rooms and the good fare provided in its bright and airy dining hall, is an ideal place for such a gathering, especially in August. The programme of addresses and discussions will afford opportunities of great value for the comparison of ideas, the exchanging of experiences and the assimilation of information. In addition there will be the newspaper competition conducted on similar lines to that of last year. The competition is open to newspapers published in towns of not more than 4,000 inhabitants between Lake Superior and British Columbia. Six prizes are offered besides the cup provided by the Lipton Company as the trophy for the winner of the first prize. There will also be two other competitions. One is for the cup offered by the Sales Managers' Association of Canada to the newspaper giving the best advertising service to local merchants during the month of July, 1922, and the other is the competition for the gold watch put up by the Toronto Type Foundry Co., Limited, for the newspaper giving the best local news service.

Discover Ancient Village

Laying Out of Private Grounds Reveals Curious Relics

What is believed to be a prehistoric village with pottery 4,000 years old has just been discovered during the laying out of private grounds at Sidmouth, Devon.

Over 300 articles, the majority of the neolithic age, have been unearthed. They include flint weapons, adzes, boring tools, a scraper and other relics of the period.

Probably the most valuable find is a profile portrait of a woman on an inner flask of flint, the features being shaped by numerous small cuts, giving indisputable proof of secondary working. It is similar to other specimens found several years ago, when the late Dr. Alfred Russell Wallace described them as a distinct addition to our knowledge of primitive man.

Some of the articles, it is claimed, establish continuous occupation of the site for many centuries before Christ.

The discoveries have been made by David Chambers, who has submitted several specimens of the British Museum, from which reports have been received, confirming the antiquity of the finds.

Eat Horses and Dogs

Over 5,000 Dogs and 149,000 Horses Consumed in Germany

"Hot Dogs" is right, is an announcement from Berlin. Official reports say that 5,000 real barking dogs were transformed into Germany's "hot dog" supply last year. That only counts the ones that passed the slaughter houses, not those that were home-butchers.

The same reports say that 149,000 horses went the same way into "hot dogs" against only about 4,000 a year before the war. In pre-war days, there is no official record of any dogs reaching the sausage grill.

German writers say that this consumption of horse and dog meat in Germany shows that Germany's prosperity cannot be judged by the food served in the hotels, but that Germany is so poor that the poor cannot get any meat save dogs and horse meat.

CREOSOTED FENCE-POSTS OUTLAST CEDAR

For many years it has been thought that the only timber that would give a reasonable period of service as fence-posts was cedar. The Forest products Laboratories of the Department of the Interior Canada, state, however, that by employing a comparatively simple method it is possible to treat posts of certain hardwoods in such a way that they will have a life at least twice as long as cedar posts. The preservative effect of this treatment is clearly shown by fencing erected at Dominion Forestry Branch forest nursery at Indian Head in 1917. Here posts of Russian poplar were used, both treated and untreated, and it is interesting to note that all the untreated posts erected at this time have decayed and been removed while the treated posts are all still in service and appear as sound as the day they were placed in position.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

INTERESTS DIFFER

That the city needs the country, and vice versa, is a trite remark but it is as axiomatic as the geometric principle that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. Neither can progress without the other. If I owned a factory my salesmen would assail the small cities and the villages for orders; if I owned a farm, my products would be sold to feed the vast populations in our cities. True, years ago, "in the good old days," that you hear some old timers speak of, the family on the farm made its own clothing, shoes and even crude machinery, and was practically independent of the city. But these same "old" had little or no product to sell to the city because he was generally unable to get it there, or was contented to raise just enough to supply his own household. The standard of living was low then on that account. The cities didn't show the growth that they do in these times because manufacturing wasn't so heavy. In other words, the city and country were not co-operating. It was a long time before the county and city began to get away from being jealous and suspicious of each other.

I remember, when a boy in a small town in Northern Wales how I looked upon the "city slickers" with suspicion. These "city slickers" were really none other than salesmen who bore messages of peace and co-operation, and finally I came to realize that they were our friends. Why, through them we got our latest style of hair cut, our up-to-date, cuts of clothes with the top and cuffed trousers, and the nebbiest things in neck wear.

To co-operate, the participants must be able to see from the view points of each other. The city banker must know under what conditions the country banker has to do business. The other side is also true. Looking at both sides brings about understanding which in time dispels suspicion and jealousy. You know how satisfactory and pleasant it is to go to your favorite barber shop because he understands just how you want those falling locks of yours laid down. It is more pleasant and satisfactory to do business with a man you know. Therefore every means of getting acquainted is justified.

Good roads are bringing the two populations together, and of course the automobile is a means. By the auto we get into the small town, the people from there come to see us. By contract we learn to sympathize with each other. The Babcock amendment has been the means of doing more for leveling the barriers between country and city than any other one thing. Good roads mean easy communication.

Co-operation between country and city comes through the newspapers and farm publications; the telephone, and now even the radio.

FOOD VALUE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Milk and dairy products generally are of inestimable food value to the human race, and their comparatively moderate cost make them accessible to practically every one. Further than that, the products of the dairy add immensely to the health of the country. It is a question if the people of Canada sufficiently appreciate either the economic value of the dairy industry to the country at large, or the food value of milk and its products to the individual. In Britain the consumption of cheese per capita greatly exceeds ours. If butter we do better, but in milk our consumption individually has been shown to be one quarter of a pint compared with half a pint per head in the United States. Since the advent of prohibition, however the United States consumption per capita has increased to three quarters of a pint, and there is evidence to show that Canadians are also taking a great deal more to the lactical fluid than formerly.

The importance of milk in the diet of both young and old is constantly being emphasized by the medical profession. Malnutrition or undernourishment, it should be understood, is not always the result of insufficient food, but frequently of unwisely and improperly chosen foods. This is supported by the fact that investigation has shown that a large percentage of under nourished children are the off-spring of well to do parents. The thoughtful mother will see that her children get plenty of milk from which to build a strong framework, developmental capacity, and good health. Future happiness depends largely on these factors.

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?
Some say Eve eight and Adam two—a total of ten only.

Now we figure the thing out differently: Eve eight and Adam eight also—total 16.

We think the above figures are entirely wrong.

If Eve eight and Adam 82, certainly the total will be 90.

Scientific men, however, on the strength of the theory that the antediluvians were giants, reason something like this: Eve 81 and Adam 82—total 163.

Wrong again. What could be clearer than if Eve 81 and Adam 812 the total was 893?

I believe the following to be the true solution: Eve, 814 Adam, and Adam 8124 Eve—8,938.

Still another calculation is as follows: If Eve 814 Adam, Adam 81,242 oblige Eve—82,056—Ex.

Redistribution Gives Eleven More Seats For Prairie Provinces

Ottawa.—There will be 244 members in the House of Commons after the next redistribution, according to the revised population figures for Canada which have been given out by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This is an increase of nine members over the present house.

The distribution of members among the provinces in the present House and after redistribution will compare as follows:

Province	New Present House
Prince Edward Island	4
Quebec	65
Nova Scotia	14
New Brunswick	11
Ontario	81
Manitoba	17
Saskatchewan	21
Alberta	16
British Columbia	14
Yukon	1
Totals	244

The chief increases in membership, are, as expected, in the prairie provinces which will send 11 more members to Parliament after redistribution. The increase is in Nova Scotia and Ontario.

The province which gets the largest increase is Saskatchewan, with five, while Alberta is a close second with four.

It is not certain whether the Yukon will retain its separate representation after redistribution. That territory was first given a member by act of Parliament in 1902. At that time there was a population of 27,219 in the territory, but at present it is only 4,157.

According to an announcement made by the Premier at the close of Parliament, a redistribution bill will be introduced at the next session in January.

HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL'S STRONG PLEA FOR AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

Woodstock, Ont.—Asserting that only by the application of the most up-to-date scientific methods of agriculture would Canada be able to hold its own with the countries of Europe when they returned to greater crop production, Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, and now Commissioner of Agriculture for the Dominion, speaking here, made a strong plea for a more competitive and extensive system in agriculture.

Mr. Marshall made a plea for a closer unity between the farmers, the people of the city and the country and went on to deal with the subject of agricultural education, which, he said, was much neglected by all governments. He spoke of the rapid growth of Belgium as an agricultural nation and said this was due to the fact that boys and girls in schools were taught to have a proper understanding of the value of agriculture.

Mr. Marshall explained what had been done in the agricultural colleges in Alberta, and said he hoped the day was not far distant when agricultural education in Canada would be placed on the same plane as higher education for the professions.

Monarchist Members Assassinated Rathenau

Several Persons Arrested Charged With Complicity In Murder

Berlin.—The police officially announce that the murders of Dr. Walter Rathenau, Foreign Minister, and Ernest Werner Tschow, of Berlin; Fischer, alias Vogel, a Saxon; and Knauer, alias Koerner or Kern, of Mecklenburg;

All the men are said to be members of the monarchist organization and former members of the brigade of Captain Ehrhardt, who last year planned the overthrow of the Ebert Government and whose name was mentioned in connection with the assassination of Matthias Erzberger.

The police also announce that several persons have been arrested charged with complicity in the assassination of Dr. Rathenau.

Jugo-Slav Agitators Have Been Sentenced

Five to Die and Others Get Long Prison Terms

Belgrade.—Following the trial of several hundred persons charged with agitating against the public security, five have been condemned to hang, seven were given twenty years at hard labor, and sixty-eight received sentences ranging one to sixteen years.

King Alexander has pardoned Stelich, the twenty-eight-year-old prisoner, who was condemned on Feb. 23 for his attempt to assassinate the King in June of last year.

Neutral Zone In Ireland May Solve Difficulties For North And South

Belmont.—The big neutral zone experiment, establishing a five-mile strip of neutral territory in the Pettigo and Belleek district of the Ulster-Free State border, under a truce agreement by the British, the provisional and northern governments, is made effective, Premier Sir James Craig, of Ulster, told an interviewer.

Premier Craig said the military took complete control of two and one half miles on either side of the border, the Royal Ulster Constabulary taking one side and the Free State police, unarmed, occupying the other side of the border.

Premier Craig explained that the zone was an experiment, but if it proved satisfactory it might be extended to other portions of the border where disturbances constantly were arising, especially where the railway ran in and out of Free State territory near Lifford.

Sir James intimated that if the neutral zone system worked out as it was intended, it might supersede the proposed boundary commission which Ulster had refused to recognize. The zone would make no difference in the administration of local affairs.

"Military control in the zone," the

U.S. Men Secure Dominion Positions

Canada Lacks Trained Men For Department of Agriculture

Montreal.—Owing to lack of trained men in the Dominion, the Federal Department of Agriculture was recently compelled to look to the United States for a graduate possessing the requisite knowledge and even now is looking to that country for a qualified man to fill another government post.

Mr. J. H. Gendreau, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, during the course of his address at a luncheon at MacDonald College, to the members of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists.

The police also announce that several persons have been arrested charged with complicity in the assassination of Dr. Rathenau.

Britain's Liquor Export

Figures Compared For Years of 1913 and 1921

London.—In response to a request made in the House of Commons by the Board of Trade and Public Statistics giving a comparison of exports of alcoholic liquors from the United Kingdom for the years 1913 and 1920. Following are the approximate figures: 1913—To the United States, $297,000; Canada, $795,000; Mexico, $23,000; West Indies, $165,000; 1920—To the United States, $125,000; Canada, $22,518,000; Mexico, $50,000; West Indies, $622,000.

A note was appended to the statistics explaining that the bulk of liquor consumed in British and Irish spirits, the average value of which in 1913 was 5½ shillings per gallon and in 1920, 29½ shillings per gallon.

premier continued, "will not mean martial law, which I regard as the negation of all law. The zone might have a few years until conditions have settled down, and Ireland is quiet again. Our legal advisors on the spot recommend it as an experiment intended to deal with an exceptionally difficult problem."

Lord Mayor Cates said that when he visited the home of the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson on the day of his assassination, Lady Wilson said to him: "I trust his death will be a benefit to the future of Ireland."

"From that moment," the lord mayor continued, "I have endeavored to make more appeal to the inhabitants of Belfast. It is first to ask those who are Protestants, Unionists or Loyalists, out of respect to the memory of the late Sir Henry, and second, all Roman Catholics, who very often complain that those of their religion are objects of attack—to ask every one in fact, to refrain for the next 10 days from all acts of violence and disorder and from all burning and looting. It is a bold request to make. God grant that it may be received in the spirit in which it is made."

Still Hope to Conquer Everest

London.—Pending receipt of a definite announcement from Brig. Gen. Charles Bruce that the attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest had been abandoned, there seems to be some uncertainty about it, notwithstanding the recent reports from Calcutta. The Daily Telegraph's Calcutta correspondent attributes to the four members of the British expedition who have arrived at Darjeeling, British India, the statement that when they left the camp their leader and the remainder of the expedition still cherished hope that a last desperate effort might possibly be successful.

Fiat Unnecessary to Sue Attorney-General

Decision of Justice Orde Upheld by Ontario Court

Toronto.—Justice Orde's decision that it is not necessary for John T. Smith to secure a fiat from the Attorney-General before he can sue the Government has been upheld by the Ontario Court. H. S. White, K.C., with F. P. Brennan, moved before Justice Lennox for leave to appeal. The motion was opposed by H. Ferguson, K.C. The application was refused. "Smith's action," stated some time ago against the Attorney-General for a declaration that there is no valid legislation to prevent him importing liquor into Ontario. The Attorney-General moved before the master in chambers for an order dismissing the action on the ground that no fiat had been granted. The order was made by the master in chambers but was reversed on appeal of Justice Orde.

Object to Selling British Columbia House

Yearly Rental Amounts to About Thirteen Thousand Pounds

Victoria, B.C.—The provincial government is averse to selling British Columbia House in London to the Federal Government. Premier Oliver informed Premier Mackenzie King, however, the province would be glad to have the federal overseas officers as tenants in British Columbia House if satisfactory arrangements could be made with present tenants who have a long-time lease. The house brings in about £13,000 a year in rentals. The House of Commons in Ottawa last week provided an appropriation to cover the acquisition of British Columbia House.

Successful Chinese Trapper Reaches Edmonton From Far North

Edmonton.—Mah Loo, Chinese trapper from Fort Chipewyan, is a visitor in the city, disposing of his winter catch of peltries from the Delta country, at the mouth of the Athabasca River, where he has been a trapper for several years. He was successful in making a big catch.

Mah Loo is the pioneer Celestial of the north country, and though others of his nationality have strayed to the Arctic Sea on the British Columbia and Yukon side of the border, so far no Chinaman has attempted to gain a living from the wilderness in Northern Alberta.

Allege Assassin Is An Ex-Guardsman

London Paper Gives Real Name of Field Marshal's Murderer

London.—The real name of James Connolly, who is charged with the murder of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson in Regent's Road, says the Evening News. The newspaper says he served three years with the Irish Guards in France; that he lived in a London suburb and drew a pension. His father, it says, is a retired bandmaster of the Dragon Guards.

Will Investigate Jap Menace Victoria.—That the fisheries commission will open its session in Vancouver July 15, is stated here, on good authority.

The Japanese influence in west coast fishing probably will be the most important feature of the hearing, and the commission will hear some pretty straight evidence as to the situation in British Columbia, it is said.

Czarists Interested In Hague Conference

Miserly Stricken People of Russia Indignant at Soviet

The Hague.—Although the only Russian delegates at the Hague conference are representatives of the Bolshevik Government, the legation and the consulate general representing the old Czarist regime are still functioning in the Dutch capital. As no recognized Government has arisen in Russia since the fall of the Czar, the credentials of these are still valid.

The Czarist representatives are following the course of the conference with much interest. Commenting on Maxim Litvinoff's statement made upon his arrival here, they declare that "the veracity is demonstrated by the passage regarding the condition of Lenin," and added: "The real truth is that the Soviet can no longer control the indignation of the Russian population because of the condition of misery to which the country has been reduced."

"Show us the money and we will talk to you," is the challenge of Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian Soviet delegation, to the European powers; and their reply is, "Show us proper security and we will then talk about money."

Consequently the Hague conference is starting in much the same circle as that around which the Geneva conference revolved.

Western Students Enrolled as Doctors

Successful Candidates Are Named by Medical Council

Toronto.—Candidates who have successfully passed the spring examinations of the Medical Council of Canada and whose names are not enrolled in the Canada medical register under the provisions of the Medical Act were announced here by Dr. R. W. Powell, of Ottawa, registrar.

The examinations were held earlier in the month in Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

The names include: C. W. Atkinson, Lougheed, Alta.; J. E. Brouse, Vancouver; V. Chung, Victoria; A. Francis, McKay, B.C.; I. A. Karney, Kamloops, B.C.; W. N. Kemp, Vancouver; F. P. Fishermen on Strike

Whites and Indians Demand Fifty Cents for Salmon

Vancouver.—Demanding an increase in the price paid for sockeye salmon by Rivers' Inlet Cannermen, white and Indian fishermen employed by the eleven canneries there, have gone on strike and additional police are being sent into the district according to information received here. The present price paid for salmon is thirty cents and the fishermen are now demanding fifty cents a fish.

Britain Signs Agreement With Basra London.—A despatch from Basra, Asiatic Turkey, says King Faisal of the Iraq region, his ministers and Sir Percy Cox, High Commissioner for Mesopotamia, have reached "a complete agreement on the peace treaty defining the relations between Iraq and Great Britain as the mandatory power."

Wheat Headed Out Saskatchewan.—Wheat headed out, and 18 inches high, is reported from Hill Park, near Lougheed, Alta., on the farm of L. N. Traverer.

Pleas Co-operation Between Provinces Montreal.—The Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists met at MacDonald College in convention with delegates present from all parts of Canada. Pleas for co-operation and better understanding between the provinces marked the opening addresses at the various gatherings.

Measures adopted for the returned men would do much to ensure fulfillment of the patriotic purposes they were intended to serve. By amendment to the election laws, full freedom of the franchise had been secured for additional thousands of Canadian women.

The Speech from the Throne, following a review of seasonal work, stated that a conference between Federal and Provincial authorities on unemployment was being arranged.

J. T. Shaw (Progressive) West Calgary, asked whether the premier could give an assurance that redistribution would proceed the next session.

"I think I can assure the Honorable Gentleman," replied Hon. Mackenzie King, "that there will be no election before the next session of parliament."

"Because," answered Mr. Melgoin, "he has now taken up the position that I have always occupied and this is one of the great reforms that was promised which has turned out not to be a reform at all but merely a promise."

"The Right Honorable gentleman," commented the leader of the opposition, "has retired from his last possible position, not with good grace, but with as good grace as could be expected."

"It may remark," returned the premier, "that the leader of the opposition has accepted it with his usual grace."

Germans Could Build Long-Planned Tunnel

Minister of Public Works Submits Plan to French Government

Paris.—A huge war reparations plan under which the Germans who reconstruct France and also build the long-planned tunnel under the English Channel has been submitted by the Minister of Public Works, M. Le Troquer, to Premier Poincare, who has laid it before the French members of the reparations committee. The plan involves the use of German labor and materials to the extent of 20,000,000,000 francs.

The newspapers publishing the details fully approve the project, declaring that under it Germany cannot refuse to pay. They assert that if she is able to carry on the construction of railways and telegraph lines in Germany she is able to reconstruct the war-torn areas in France and also to help build the canal, electric power plants and railways which are needed in France and which are now under partial construction.

Canada Should Advertise

Member of British Parliament Says We Should Tell the World What We Produce

Toronto.—Canada needs world-wide publicity, declared Sir Charles F. Higham, member of the British Parliament for South Leighton, in an interview here. As an Englishman, he is supposed to know what is going on in the world, he said he did not know very much about Canada because it did not advertise very much.

"I do not know the type of manufactures Canada can produce," Mr. Higham said. "What Canada is famous for is her fine soldiers—admitted as such by everybody who came into contact with them during the war, and the envy of all nations. They gave the world a great advertisement of Canadian 'machinery' now in peace time the same must be done for Canadian products in the world's markets."

The debate developed into invectives against the President of the Council and the members of the Communist party, in which the cry, "Poincare means war," was sung at Mr. Poincare by Deputy Ernest Lafont.

Drury Satisfied With Prohibition After Visit to B.C.

Toronto.—"In my opinion Government of Ontario is not anywhere near so successful as the temperance measure we have in Ontario—straight prohibition," said Premier Drury on his return from a fortnight's sojourn in British Columbia, one of Canada's two wet provinces.

"From the standpoint of temperance," he added, "I feel that the system we have in Ontario is the better one. I come back more satisfied than I was before that straight prohibition is the better of the two policies."

J. T. Shaw (Progressive) West Calgary, asked whether the premier could give an assurance that redistribution would proceed the next session.

"I think I can assure the Honorable Gentleman," replied Hon. Mackenzie King, "that there will be no election before the next session of parliament."

"Because," answered Mr. Melgoin, "he has now taken up the position that I have always occupied and this is one of the great reforms that was promised which has turned out not to be a reform at all but merely a promise."

"The Right Honorable gentleman," commented the leader of the opposition, "has retired from his last possible position, not with good grace, but with as good grace as could be expected."

"It may remark," returned the premier, "that the leader of the opposition has accepted it with his usual grace."

Dawson Being Deserted

People Flocking to New Mining Camp at Mayo

Vancouver.—Dawson City is fast becoming a deserted town. Hotels and houses are being pulled down and taken to the new mining camp at Mayo, where they are being re-erected and old-timers of the north predict that Mayo will be a camp of 20,000 persons in the next two years. Everybody is going to Mayo. This is the word that Thomas Greenway, well-known Yukoner and former Mounted Policeman, has sent to friends in this city.

Recent arrivals from the north say that the Yukon interest in the new camp has been blocked out enough to last for the next 15 years and are carrying out their work at a rapid rate.
